

VOLUNTEERING WITH THE ANTI-VIOLENCE PROJECT

Thank you for your interest in volunteering with the Anti-Violence Project (AVP)! Below is a brief explanation of our organization, volunteer training and commitments, as well as the volunteer application form. This training is open to people of all genders who are students, staff and/or community members. Once you've read the following information and decided that you're interested in joining us for the 2018/19 school year, please fill out the application, and submit it by completing the Word form, or filling out the pdf version and dropping off at our office: Student Union Building Room B027 or email it to volunteer@antiviolenceproject.org by April 17, 2018 at 11am.

About the Anti-Violence Project

The Anti-Violence Project provides sex-positive, anti-oppressive services that prevent and act against gender-based and sexualized violence. Our services are open to people of all genders whether you're a UVic student, alumni, staff, faculty, or a community member. We provide confidential services to people who have been impacted by gender-based and/or sexualized violence by: directly experiencing it, through causing harm to someone else, or supporting or knowing someone who has experienced it. We provide resources and information through our support hours, free workshops, lending library, free zines and free safer sex supplies. Our education and advocacy initiatives on campus and in the community include collaborative events and campaigns to raise awareness about gender-based violence. Get more info: <http://www.antiviolenceproject.org/about/>

Who can apply?

We encourage people of all genders and abilities to apply. Our volunteer training is open to all community members; you do not have to be a UVic student to apply.

Benefits of Volunteering

- ★ Gain and utilize analysis, knowledge, and awareness of gender-based and sexualized violence and the forms it takes
- ★ Gain skills to support and empower survivors and allies
- ★ Join a team of people committed to creating change on personal, community, institutional, and systemic levels and form lasting friendships.
- ★ Learn about and utilize anti-oppressive and decolonizing practice in relation to anti-violence work
- ★ Experience personal development and growth
- ★ Receive approx. 40 hours of training, including support, bystander intervention, violence prevention, and sex-positive education skills
- ★ Participate in ongoing training sessions throughout the year
- ★ Volunteer appreciation events

- ★ A written reference on request
- ★ Opportunities to be involved in campus life and community events as representatives of the Anti-Violence Project
- ★ UVic students can receive a co-curricular credit for completing the training

Volunteer Requirements

- ★ Have supports available in your life, as volunteering can be challenging
- ★ Be comfortable working with diverse populations (people of all genders and sexual orientations, people from various cultural backgrounds, people who have caused harm)
- ★ Respect people's rights regarding contraceptive choice and reproductive freedom
- ★ Be "scent-free" during training and while volunteering.

Volunteer Training – An Overview

After reviewing applications we may interview short-listed applicants as we only have 20 training spots available. We then invite successful candidates to attend our extensive and informative volunteer training (approx 24 hours in May, 15 hours in the fall). Our volunteer training program is not an academic course, but the workload is comparable to a university course; attendance is required and there are weekly readings. Topics covered in training include: colonization, sexualized violence, consent, bystander intervention, sex positivity, genders beyond the binary, and self and community care. AVP's training is done from an anti-colonial, intersectional framework.

We will conclude the training with one-on-one check-ins to confirm that the volunteer and AVP's work are a good fit. We ask volunteers to commit to working with AVP throughout the Fall and Spring term for an average 1-3 hr/week in various available volunteer roles which include: supporting survivors, allies, and people who've caused harm who are seeking crisis support and referrals, outreach initiatives that may include peer education, engaging groups through activities and table displays, research projects, writing blog posts or book reviews, making zines or art, helping with administration tasks, and facilitating workshops. We also collaborate and volunteer with many groups to commemorate, celebrate, resist, and protest in the form of marches, cultural events and gatherings, joint conferences or workshops.

TRAINING DATES for 2018:

The 2018 Volunteer Training will be broken into two sections. The first will be held on Tues & Thurs evenings in May, starting May 1st until May 24th. The second section will be held biweekly on Tuesdays and/or Thursdays in Fall 2018 (we will decide on the exact dates during the first part of Volunteer Training).

Every Tuesday evening for 3 hours (May 1st, 8th, 15th, 22nd)

Every Thursday evening for 3 hours (May 3rd, 10th, 17th, 24th)

Accessibility:

AVP strives to be as accessible as possible but acknowledge we are far from being truly accessible.

- ★ Applications can be submitted online or in person
- ★ Colouring, fidgeting, knitting, etc during workshop times encouraged if it's helpful for you
- ★ Self-care encouraged
- ★ Childcare upon request
- ★ Transcription services upon request
- ★ Gender-inclusive washrooms
- ★ Training rooms are large in size and are mostly quiet but can be echoey and have lower levels of background noise including a fan
- ★ There will be chairs without arms available in each of the rooms
- ★ Wheelchair accessible training spaces and washrooms - please contact us for more specific information such as door widths.
- ★ The Student Union Building is a designated scent-free space, however we are using shared spaces for training and cannot guarantee no residual scents will be present
- ★ We strive to use only video with captioning
- ★ Food will be provided via potluck style with contributions from participants and AVP - there is no requirement to bring food
- ★ AVP has volunteer tasks that can be done from home but we currently have no way to make training available online. If you have ideas on how this might work pls do contact us. We're excited to push our learning.
- ★ Many buses are close by and bus tickets available at each session and can be mailed prior to first session

We'd love to know what your accessibility needs are and how we can make this training accessible to you. Please contact trish at 250-721-8080 or coordinator@antiviolenceproject.org with questions, comments, or concerns.
